Knowledge Management is

• a targeted, integrated, and systematic approach

• to identifying, acquiring, creating, sharing, applying, and capturing knowledge,

• relevant to achieving the specific objectives of OPN.
Knowledge Management Process

- Knowledge goals
- Measuring knowledge
- Identifying knowledge
- Capturing knowledge
- Acquiring knowledge
- Applying knowledge
- Creating knowledge
- Sharing knowledge
Key recommendations

Sharpen OPN’s focus and diversify roles
Focus knowledge resources on implementation activities
Widen the number of contributors, strengthen local roles and capacities

Strengthen and connect communities
- Socialize knowledge (even more) through professional facilitation of communities
- Foster local/thematic communities to contextualize and adjust knowledge to user needs

Foster knowledge services
- Create a portfolio of SCP knowledge services – online and f2f
- OPN key services, professional services, peer2peer-services; external services

Optimize use of documents & resources
Structure knowledge - documents, people, external knowledge – along use cases
Provide guidance and training in Knowledge Management
• The World Café is about dialogue! Every participant is important and can contribute knowledge.

• At small tables (4-5 people) individuals can exchange their ideas related to a given topic or a powerful question.

• After sharing the views and ideas, participants change to different (!) other tables! A table host stays at the table and introduces the new participants at the previous discussions.

• After the second round, the table hosts summarize their findings and presented them to the plenum.

• Paper tablecloths are provided to create a visual memory of the conversation.
